A. F. VANCE, Postmaster.

LOCAL BRIEVITIES.

Rev. Duty will return to-morrow.
The Ironton Cornet Band is about to disband.
Collins' broncho is in daily request by the little folk.

The REGISTER is a day late this week. The cause will appear later on.

Rain and northerly winds knocked out the hot spell Monday night, and we are now having September weather.

The colored barbecue and picnic last Friday was a big success in all ways. An extended account will be given next week.

Owing to a lot of extra work, the REGISTER is not up to the standard this week, and is a few hours behind time. But amends shall be made.

Sam Jones, Esq., has our thanks for a dozen of the finest peaches we ever saw in this section. They were of the product of Gen. Turner's orchard.

Miss Edith Strong has a chicken that was hatched April 27th; on August 17th—when just 113 days old—this chicken laid her first egg. Who can beat this?

Fayette Sutton of Annapolis is an occupant of the jail, being held to answer for deadly assault upon Joseph Kinch. A full account of the matter is given elsewhere.

The Young People's Missionary Society will give an open session at Fort Hill Church Thursday evening, Aug. 22nd. The program will be "Building the Cable," and the collection will be appropriated to the Mission cause. All are invited.

The Adventists will commence meeting in the tent Wednesday evening, continuing over Sunday. Elder W. S. Hyatt of Kansas City will be present during the time. The tent will be pitched on the same ground as before. All are invited to attend these meetings.

Lost, Strayed, or Stolen.—One George W. Bliss and wife and wife's sister. When last heard from these parties were in the wilds of Southeast Missouri. Any information will be thankfully received by their bothered relatives and friends.

N. W. OR W. K. BLISS.

Subject for services at the Presbyterian church, August 25th: morning—"Ambitions and possibilities of man." Evening—"Reminiscences." For Graniteville, 3 p. m.—"Love, its power and influence." All who have no other services to attend, are cordially invited.
GEO. H. DUTY, Pastor.

The Blue Ribbon Fair at Bellevue last Saturday was very successful. The attendance was large, and some fine stock was on the ground. A list of the premiums awarded has been furnished us for publication, and will appear next week. Under ordinary circumstances it would not be delayed, but we are unavoidably compelled to defer the insertion of the list. We hope our friends will overlook the delay, and attribute it not to our desire, but to the true cause—lack of space.

Arthur Carson, who appropriated $20 of the net earnings of the Gladden Hotel at Williamsville, to his own use, and David Mitchell, who intentionally signed the name of A. Carter to an order which was legal tender at the store of Strother & Co., at Cold Water, both entered a plea of guilty in the circuit court last Monday, and were sentenced to two years imprisonment in the state prison.—Wayne County Journal.

Execution for $5000 was issued yesterday against the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Company, in favor of Mrs. Wm. Loyd. Mr. Loyd was run over and killed by a switching train at Des Arc some four years ago. The widow sued for $5000 in damages, which was awarded her in the circuit court here. The railroad company appealed the case, and the Supreme Court affirmed the decision a short time ago. Hon. J. H. Ramey is attorney for the plaintiff.

"The Sunflower Coons" may well be content to rest upon their laurels, for the entertainment they gave last Saturday evening was indeed excellent. The REGISTER regrets that it has not the time and space to give an extended criticism, but it begs to assure the young ladies, one and all—from the "end men" to the lovely Carmencita from the pianists to the distinguished consideration. The proceeds, "for the poor," netted a handsome sum which will be judiciously expended.

Jas. A. Reburn of Bellevue writes us as follows: "The correspondent from Imboden last week has been misinformed in regard to the people who got the milk from Mr. Ragan's spring-house. The writer was driving the sorrel team, and most certainly did not go into Mr. R.'s spring-house, or take any of his milk. The young man who did get a quart of milk said there was an abundance of milk there, and as the party were all well acquainted with Mr. R. and know he would gladly give any person a quart of milk for the asking, they did not think it worth while to hunt him up and ask him for it. However, he asks me to state now that he is under obligations to Mr. R. for the milk, and hopes to be able to repay him any time he is passing this way."

FOR SALE.—An Oil Painting by the late J. R. Meeker. Also some rare old books and a few coins. Apply at this office.

The Concert by Miss Baird's Music Class last Thursday evening was a success and proved conclusively her ability in teaching and training; and also that the Valley contains material for fine music in the near future. The organ recital by James Martin was choice and proves close study and application on his part. Miss Kate Tierney, also, in her usual talented way, held the audience while playing several fine selections. The Fairy Scene was very realistic, and the play of the Five Little Fiddlers was much enjoyed. The Gipsy Song, by Gertrude Mangold, deserved the encore it received, and the recitation by Miss Maud Edgar was excellent. Seaf Hatten and J. O'Brien also deserve mention, showing great improvement since their last appearance, and the Seven Little Grandmas charmed all hearts with their quaint acting. Agnes Thomas, as usual, claimed all attention while before the audience. The class went home tired, but happy in having tried to do their best, and more in love with their teacher than ever, if that could be possible, as it is well known they are all devoted to her.

A SPECTATOR.

The following lines, dedicated to the "Sunflower Coons" by B. E. Black and H. W. Adams, Demonstrators of Legal Anatomy, and experts in matters pertaining to Sullivan on Damages—John L. Sullivan—were sent by the demonstrators to the "Coons" last Saturday—the lines being accompanied by a box of Plows' best:

To the Sunflower Coons of Ironton,
We dedicate these sweets,
And these little Tribby squibbles,
We drop at the funny Coons' feet;

And trust, that in the future,
When we are old and lame,
The Sunflower Coons of Ironton,
Will be singing just the same.

Yes, to crowded houses, sweetly singing,
Amusing the little folks,
Breaking the hearts of the front-row duds,
With the scathing local jokes.

And when the day's work is ended,
And the crowd begins to go,
May the banner of success be unfurled,
Immediately after the show.

Yes, unfurled to the breezes of Ironton,
Where all may see and know,
That the ladies of the Valley of Arcadia,
Can successfully manage a show.

The poor, for whose benefit it is given,
Should ever cherish this honored boon,
And hold in sacred memory,
The gift of the Sunflower Coon.

Last Sunday's REPUBLIC contained a reproduction of a photograph of several Valley folk recently taken at the Granite Quarry. In the party were

Mrs. Lopez, her three sons, Adolph, George and Jake, and daughter, Adele; Dr. Forster, Lucille Overstolz, Marie Overstolz and Katherine Overstolz. In connection therewith appeared the following allusion to the Arcadia Valley as a summer resort: "There is a chosen little coterie of St. Louis people who every summer do not pack huge trunks full of dress clothes, but hire themselves to crowded and seashore resorts. Instead they quietly go for a four hours' ride on the Iron Mountain road, and reach one of the loveliest spots imaginable, 'Arcadia.' It is a picturesque place at the foot of the Ozark Mountains, and claims the most interesting scenery in Missouri. There are scores of clear, limpid streams that will supply the mighty fisherman all the fun he wants, and afford solid ozone to please the most fastidious. The roads are excellent, both for driving and wheeling, and it is the most acceptable and pleasurable amusement. The spot gained its name through the enthusiasm of a young woman who made a visit there some years ago. As she gazed at the beauties of the scenery she exclaimed, 'Arcadia,' and so it has been ever since. Its nearness to St. Louis renders it particularly desirable to business men. Dr. and Mrs. Forster have been visitors there for some summers. Mrs. Forster's daughters, the Misses Overstolz, are sojourning there now. General Turner's family go summer after summer to this charming spot and their home is a most delightful one for summer comforts. W. H. Thomson, cashier of the Boatmen's Bank, has a handsome residence set within spacious grounds, the whole inclosed by a stone wall. The arch over the gateway tells the name, 'Valley Home,' and it is home in every sense. Madame Soudard and daughter are there this season. Judge E. J. Langdon owns a finely stocked farm. Judge Jos. G. Clarkson owns also a characteristic Southern home, an inviting spot with its vine-clad porches and other inducements to a weary wanderer to rest. The home of Mrs. T. S. Lopez, called The Oaks, is surrounded by beautiful trees, and is one of the famous resorts for a good time that the young people enjoy. Miss Lopez and Miss Lucille Overstolz are the center of a busy group of young people, who make life happy for all their friends. A trip to the 'Falls of Evangeline' is a real delight. They dash gracefully over a precipice, making a beautiful waterfall. Each succeeding year finds a larger number of St. Louis people crowding into Arcadia, and would seem an advantage to investment if a company would in the near future build a large hotel. It has as much natural advantage of scenery and railroad facilities as Minnesota, or the well-known resorts in any State near to large cities. The social element remains always the same in interest, which is a particular attraction. A good deal that is of historical interest clings about the Arcadia Valley. Near a tree on Judge Emerson's grounds stands a bronze statue of a soldier. On this spot Colonel Ulysses S. Grant received his commission as Brigadier General in 1861. The season is long—many families going out as early as April and remaining until November. The fall is a dream of lovely coloring in foliage—and excursions of all sorts are in order. A gay crowd of young people make things always cheerful, with horses and bicycles galore. The weather has been delightful up to the present time, old and young having a good time alike."

For Sale.—The Tetwiler property on Main Street. Easy terms. Apply at this office.

Arcadia News.

Mr. Hayden and family, Mrs. Dr. Kenney and Miss Hayden, all of De Soto, are guests of the Arcadia House.
Col. Swift has returned from a long stay in New York. We understand also a very successful business trip.
Miss Terese Dunn of St. Louis spent a week with her friend, Mrs. O'Brien. Mrs. Hall spent Sunday at the Arcadia House. Josie O'Brien accompanied her home.
Dr. Bliss of Potosi and his brother, Dr. Bliss of Chicago, with their wives, are visiting Conductor Andrews and family.

We are glad to learn Miss Baird's concert was a success financially. All the pupils did their best to show they had been well taught and disciplined.
Jas. Martin left last Friday for Dunklin. We hope Jas. will have the good time he deserves.

Several new boarders at Cottage Hotel.
Mr. DeMier's dance was a success, as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen of St. Louis are down for two weeks.
Valley View House has guests arriving daily.
Lost—between Mrs. Baird's and the Hotel, two one-dollar bills. JEROME.

From Des Arc.

Rev. Watson preached in the Baptist Church Aug. 4.

Miss Minnie Lovelace gave a social Monday night, Aug. 5, to a few of her friends. All reported a good time.

Miss Carrie Semands, who has been visiting here for the past eight days left the day following for her home in De Soto. Whom are those tears shed for, Miss Carrie?

All the young folks who wish their beauty sketched, call on the photographer, of Des Arc.

Last Wednesday night, after prayer meeting, an ice cream social was given by Miss Bessie Morris for a few of her most intimate friends. Those that were present were as follows: Mr. McKee of Cape Girardeau, Mr. Joe Hickman of Des Arc, Mr. Chas. Williams of Des Arc, Messrs. Leonard and Horace Morris of Des Arc, Miss Florence Wallace of Des Arc, Miss Minnie Belle Celley of Jackson, Mo., Misses Bessie and Annie Morris.

The Crane Pond and the Des Arc boys played a game of base ball Saturday; the Des Arcs came out ahead.

The Pastor of the M. E. Church preached two fine sermons here Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Old man Williams' face is wreathed in smiles. His lost mules have returned.

Croquet seems to be the leading game of the day in Des Arc. You can hear the ball being knocked at twelve o'clock.

Rumors of other socials to be given in Des Arc are in the near future.

Kind Editor, do not think that I am trying to take "Uncle Isaac's" place, but as he is laid up in the shade, owing to warm weather, and has not appeared for some time, we did not think a few items would be out of place.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Graves are visiting her parents in New York, but his business is booming just the same under the management of Mr. Lucy and Mr. Moers.

DES ARC RAMBLER.

We are getting dry; a little rain would do good.

E. W. Graves and wife are expected home this week.

Miss Minnie Kelley of Jackson, Cape county, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Chas. Williams.

Mrs. Minnie Woodward and sister, Mrs. Lulu Smith, are spending a few days with Mrs. Cicero Lucy.

Scatterville folks are moving their mill over on Crane Pond, near the old Marsh mill.

Thos. Fitz will move his mill this week across the river into the New Bend. He went last week to look out a location near Hilliard, five miles this side of Poplar Bluff, but he could not stand the bull-frogs, so look them three feet long; and men look at them if there was not a drop of blood in them. A man had better live on bread and water than have no health in that swampy country.

The Des Arc Reds and Brunot Blues crossed bats at Brung internat. Saturday. Resulted in 50 to 18 in favor of Des Arc. They will try it again soon.

Rev. Heacock, the Seventh-Day Adventist, is holding a meeting here to-night at the residence of Andrew Meyers. The churches refused to open their doors to him, not believing in that kind of doctrine.

Annapolis News.

Ed. Register—"Gold Bug" in your last issue gave out a great amount of important information. Any kind of money, he says, will do for change, but silver cannot be used in international commerce. Now, according to the best information we have on the subject, only four per cent. of our commerce is foreign. The remaining ninety-six per cent. being internal. Surely this is a broad field for silver. If silver is good enough for 96 per cent. of our commerce, where is the objection to free coinage there? But "Gold Bug" says we import coffee, rice, pepper dry goods, dyestuffs, etc.—more than one hundred millions of dollars annually, which has to be paid in gold. Let us see? I believe we import the greatest amount of our coffee from Brazil. If I am not mistaken Brazil is a silver-using country. Rice we get from China. China uses silver money. Dyestuffs we import from the Indies. They also use silver. That leaves dry goods alone to be imported from gold-using countries, unless our Gold Bug friend will maintain that pepper comes from some gold using country.

Now, Mr. Editor, supposing that the list of imports given by "Gold Bug" is a fair sample, I think we may be safe in claiming that at least half our imports come from silver-using countries; take that from the four per cent. of our foreign commerce, and it leaves but two per cent. of our entire commerce with gold-using countries. That is the best argument in favor of the free coinage of silver that I have seen. "Gold Bug" says the silver kings of the west "have stopped mining because they can't get the price of 16 dollars a pound and gain only 10 dollars to a pound."
"Now, I ask any man of common sense if it don't pay to get 8 dollars for a pound of silver?"

Then, as if to put the subject beyond all cavil, he says, "We here in South Missouri would be glad to have lead mines whereby only four or five cents for the product could be gained." He might also have stated that we would like to have coal mines and would be glad to get one mill per pound for the product. But if we had silver here and it cost more to mine it than it would bring on the market, we would be apt to shut down the western silver kings did. "Now, I ask any man of common sense if it don't pay to get 8 dollars a pound for silver?"

Of course it pays, and we advise Mr. Gold Bug to go there and open up a mine; plenty of good natured fellows out there will take pleasure in showing him where he can strike a good lead, free of charge, and he can buy all the necessary machinery—crushing and smelting apparatus—on time; and some good-natured railroad company will lay a track to his mine to haul his ore cheap and give him time on the first few thousand cars, in order to get him started.

Who says that silver mining don't pay? All you have to do is to sink a shaft about a half mile deep and put a little cheap machinery on top to haul out the ore; only a trifle of a million or two will rig out a nice little mine anywhere. Sure, everybody knows that the west is full of silver; all you have to do is to dig a hole down to it and your fortune is made. Of course, it's an outrage on the people to shut down mines when silver is worth 8 dollars a pound. Just think of it! 8 dollars for 16 ounces, when a miner in Indiana only gets about 60 cents for mining a whole ton of coal. It's outrageous!

Word arrived here Tuesday that Geo. Zeitlinger of Gads Hill had shot a little boy in the arm. The boy was stealing fruit from Zeitlinger's orchard.

John Brewer fell while storing hay in his barn one day last week and broke a couple of ribs. At last account he was able to be out of the house.

Joseph Kinch was struck on the side of the head by Fayette Sutton with an improvised slung-shot made with a string and an old wagon thimble nut. He was looking for danger and thought he was prepared for it, but his pistol, which was good as double-barrel, was a little rusty, and had not been properly adjusted and would not work, although he snapped three or four times at Sutton as he fled for his life.

The Rebekahs are going to give a free entertainment and sell ice cream Saturday night at the Old Fellows hall. That will be their anniversary of the institution of the lodge.

Mrs. E. P. Hillburn was bitten by a large black spider Saturday evening about four o'clock, and for twenty hours she suffered the most intense agony. She is, however, at this writing resting quietly.

From Graniteville.

Ed. Register.—Mrs. Andrew Sheehan visited in Ironton last week, the guest of her sister Mrs. A. P. Vance. Miss Emma Wardell spent last week in Arcadia.

Miss Helen Golden visited with her sister Miss Katie, at Mr. Wm. H. Thomson's Valley Home part of last week.

Miss May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Thomson, was a guest of Mrs. E. M. Thompson and sister at this place several days the past week.

Mrs. Herman Davis of Ironton visited in town last week with Mrs. James Beer and Mrs. Wm. Steffens.

Several of our townspeople are complaining of cramps and cholera morbus attacks the past few days.

Mr. Newton the facial artist, is still holding the fort here and reports business fairly good.

Work still booming with the Syenite Company, but rather dull with our neighbor company on the north side.

The Sheehan Bros. are also a little slack with business at present.

Mrs. Timothy Donahue and children left yesterday for Kansas City to join her husband, at which city they will live during the construction of the mill. That will be another new wrinkle on our horn. A woolen mill, a roller mill, a corn mill, two stores, blacksmith shop, two schools, and other features makes ours a desirable location.

Merchant Isenhower is erecting a fine new dwelling house.

Prof. Hovis' new dwelling is looming up largely, and his fifty-foot well is going down rapidly. Both he and Commissioner Grisham will aid Prof. Wagner in Concordia College after new-year. They expect a rousing big school after a little while.

C. L. Ferguson from Madison county was here yesterday to make arrangements to come to school.

Rumor has it that Henry Butts and Miss Agnes Pugh are married, and we know Mr. David S. Bennick and Mrs. C. Zimmerman are married. Rev. Wagner officiated.

Dr. A. Keen is building a large new store house.

BARNHOUSE'S HEADQ'S GROCERY & PROVISION STORE,

South of Public Square.

After first expressing my thanks to my old friends and the public generally, for so liberal a share of patronage as I have received, I express the hope that by a progressive, energetic attention to business to receive a continuance of the same. My Stores are now filled and supplied with in each Department, and Prices are made to Suit the Times.

NEW, FRESH, CHOICE, DESIRABLE GOODS

IRONTON, MO.

HENRY BARNHOUSE.

Horace Beeves, and sister Mary of Knob Lick, Mo., visited in town Sunday with their sister, Mrs. James McLaren.

Several of our town folk attended the picnic at Bellevue Saturday.

Joe Kerchner carried off two blue ribbon premiums with his ponies at the races at Bellevue Saturday.

Some 18 or 20 folks from Caledonia, Belgrade and Kaolin picnicked in our town on Saturday last, taking in the sights of our picturesque hamlet.

As yet no steps have been taken for a Labor Day demonstration, and as the work is again getting slack it is probable that there will be none.

Mr. Belle Waterford, who has been spending several months with Mrs. Tina Hannah, has returned to her home in north Missouri.

Late advices from Amburg, Wis., say that William R. Hinsdale, formerly with the Syenite Company, has secured a six months' granite job, which is considered something for the good of the "Order" in the stone cutting line.

Business in the granite trade in the East is generally picking up; men are being advertised for at several points, is our evidence for making the assertion, and we would like to be able to say the same for the West, but we are afraid that the snow will be flying ere the boom strikes this latitude. Yet it's mighty hard telling what will take place in a few months, or even weeks.

Our new mail-carrier, Mr. Henry Rutschilling, has now got an A1 outfit and says he will carry passengers to and from Graniteville to all adjacent points at reasonably low figures.

A social hop was given last Monday evening at Workman's Hall for the pleasure of those that trip the light fantastic foot.

Louis Berton returned home yesterday from the East, where he has been working for several months.

August 19, 1895. CAP.

Mr. C. G. Strong, principal of the public schools at Anderson, Cal., says: "I have used Chamberlain's Pain Balm and have found it an excellent remedy for lameness and slight wounds."

Lancashire results from a sprain, or other injury, or from rheumatism, for which Chamberlain's Pain Balm is especially intended and unequalled. It affords almost immediate relief and in a short time effects a permanent cure. For sale by all dealers.

Gravelton News.

Ed. Register.—Moser and Whitener are putting rollers in their flouring mill. That will be another new wrinkle on our horn. A woolen mill, a roller mill, a corn mill, two stores, blacksmith shop, two schools, and other features makes ours a desirable location.

Merchant Isenhower is erecting a fine new dwelling house.

Prof. Hovis' new dwelling is looming up largely, and his fifty-foot well is going down rapidly. Both he and Commissioner Grisham will aid Prof. Wagner in Concordia College after new-year. They expect a rousing big school after a little while.

Dr. A. Keen is building a large new store house.

To Tax-Payers.

The city taxes for the current year are now due. It is a fact that there isn't sufficient money in the city treasury to meet running expenses, and it is hoped that every one will be especially prompt in paying their city taxes. Those on the delinquent list are especially charged to come forward and settle, as it is the intention to immediately bring suit against all who are in arrears. So consult your best interests by paying promptly.

WALTER H. FISHER, Collector City of Ironton.

Vulcan Notes.

The extreme hot weather has brought us considerable sickness. A little child of W. J. Lushley's is suffering from an attack of erysipelas, but is reported better.

John Steward, who came to this place recently from Nebraska, died the 17th inst. from an attack of pneumonia fever.

Saturday, to have his eyes treated by a specialist.

Mrs. Billiter will leave to-day for Indianapolis, Ind. She goes to visit her family, which she has not seen for fourteen years.

John Brewer met with a painful accident one day last week. Mr. Brewer was putting hay in his barn loft, and accidentally fell through an opening in the upper floor and was seriously hurt.

Daniel and Walton Reed of Birch Tree, Shannon county, Mo., are visiting their father, James Reed.

The Scatterville mill is now in process of moving, and will probably be running at its new location within ten days. The new mill site will be called Rushville.

John Stevenson, formerly of Vulcan, has been resting the past week, but having bought an interest in the Scatterville mill, he will go at once to Rushville to help superintend the moving of the mill. John is a good lumberman as well as a refined gentleman, and will be missed from Vulcan.

Miss Pearl Stevenson and Mr. N. A. Lewis were married on the 10th inst. Squire Johnson of Des Arc officiating. May flowers be strewn in their pathway.

A small boy of Dock Williams', who used to live at Vulcan, but now lives some two miles south of Gads Hill, was shot and severely wounded by Geo. Zeitlinger, into whose orchard he had gone to get a few peaches for two drummers who chanced to be there. Our informant tells us that popular indignation has risen to such a pitch that a lynching is not at all improbable.

ENQUIRE.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had Consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thos. Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching Consumption, tried without result everything else then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in Coughs and Colds. Free trial bottles at Crisp's Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00

From Burgundy.

Ed. Register.—Please give Burgundy space in the columns of the REGISTER, as we will attempt to gather a few items that lie within reach of this little village.

The farmers all have their shoulder to the wheel, although it is a dry effort, as we have not had any rain for two long weeks. By the way, we have some dust along the highway.

Mr. Ashlock of Crawford county, drove out the nicest herd of cattle that he had purchased this year from Burgundy, Mo., bought of Henderson Bros.

Dr. F. M
